

Use of our brand materials

In general

We provide our brand material free of charge. However, please don't use our name, logo, or screenshots ("brand materials") in any way that may be confusing, misleading or suggest a sponsorship endorsement with our company. Furthermore, please do not make any changes to our name or logo.

Promotional or advertisement

Our brand material can be used free of charge, and in most common ways it is fine to use it without explicit approval by us. However, when certain claims are made e.g. "Compatible with Genemantics Cloud" please check in with us.

Products, websites and logos

Don't use our name as a part of your company, service or product name. Furthermore, don't use our name or logo in or as a part of your company, website or product name.

Referring to, or link to our brand

We don't have any restrictions on referring to, or linking to our brand, website or any other brand material.
